Preface

This document gives a detailed account of the history and achievements of Brentwood Chess Club.

Why incomplete in the title? This is for the simple reason that information pertaining to the club's history can be hard, if not impossible, to obtain in any detail.

The history is basically divided into two periods. The years before 1993 and the years from 1993 to the present (2013). The reason for this is the simple fact that I joined the club in 1993 and therefore have more information about the club from that date to the present.

Finally, throughout the document I talk about Brentwood Chess Club when strictly speaking it might be more accurate to speak about Brentwood Chess Clubs, as it appears to be the case that there has not been just a single club in existence throughout the whole period but a number of clubs that have existed and then folded. However, for convenience I refer to all these clubs as the Brentwood Chess Club, with each new club being the continuation of the previous club. If not in members and administration then at least in spirit.

Chapter 1 – 1905 to 1947

The information for the early years of Brentwood Chess Club are taken from a document belonging to Brentwood Chess Club which has the heading 'CHESS IN BRENTWOOD' and the sub-heading 'A Search for its Roots'. I shall refer to it as the Chess in Brentwood document. I think it was written by Dick Elliot in the late 1980s. This is quoted from verbatim below in the sub-section entitled 'Extract from Chess in Brentwood'.

Extract from Chess in Brentwood

No-one currently playing chess at the Brentwood Chess Club could remember whether there had been a Club before the war. The written records of the Club go back to 1947 and some of the early entries refer to a Ted Newton who had once been Chairman. He retired from the Club a few years ago on health grounds but, on contacting him, he thought he could remember a pre-war Club.

Further light was thrown on this era when the Essex Chess Association records revealed that Brentwood Chess Club had won the local league in 1933. Then coincidentally an elderly acquaintance, Howard Earl, died leaving me his Chess Library. He had been playing chess in Essex for over sixty years and had been Secretary, first of the Hornchurch Chess Club (now sadly defunct) and then of the Upminster Chess Club. His books comprehensively recorded the history of chess in Essex going back to 1920.

The Brentwood Chess Club had been founded in 1921 and had begun to play competitively in 1924. However, that wasn't the end of the story. A visit to the Brentwood Library and its local history shelves produced the Wilson & Whitworth's 1906 Brentwood and Warley Almanack Directory (after the store of that name). A "Brentwood and Warley Draughts and Chess Club" had been formed in 1905 with "the object of encouraging Draughts and Chess". It met on a Thursday night at the Recreation Hall - which used to stand at the end of the High Street (numbers 126 - 136) - just down the hill past Westbury Road. They must have been a competitive club as they had two match captains. A later publication - Dutton's Essex Almanac - revealed that the Club was still going strong in 1915 but now it was meeting at the Recreation Institute - at 116 High Street - long since demolished when Kings Road was widened. Presumably the First World War then swallowed up the Club - only for it to rise again as the Brentwood Chess Club in 1921.

This new Club first met at Somerset Hall in King Edward Road, just off the Kings Road, near the station. Somerset Hall was later pulled down and the Boys Brigade Headquarters built on the site. Being near the station was an important consideration in those days when few people had cars. This was the old "Great Eastern Line" and the Mid-Essex Chess League, which the Club soon joined, consisted of Clubs from Hornchurch, Upminster, Harold Wood, Romford and Chelmsford - all in touch with each other by train.

In 1926 the Club moved premises to the Town Hall - an impressive Palian building - occupying the site where Courts Furniture Store now stands. In that year Lieutenant Colonel G. E. F. FitzGerald became the Club's President - a post he was to hold continuously until the Club folded at the beginning of the Second World War.

Club - but this was not successful and only lasted until 1930 when the Brentwood Chess Club once again became the only focal point of chess in Brentwood.

In 1928 the Club again moved premises to Church House in New Road, opposite the Library, and continued playing there on a Tuesday evening until 1933 when they changed headquarters to the Log Restaurant on Shenfield Common. Whether it was the air or the view or just coincidence, the Club now achieved its best results ever by not only winning the League but also in having one of their members, T. E. Ketterer, win the Essex Minor Trophy (the Wilson-Marriage Cup).

In 1935 the Club moved to another eating house - Norrish's Cafe - at 68 High Street, now converted to The Baker's Oven. They were now meeting on a Wednesday night and had membership of just 13.

In 1937 a final move was made to the Conservative Club at 106-114 Kings Road, a site now occupied by Bradley's Wine Bar. Then war intervened.

In those inter-war years the Club members, though small in numbers (never less than 12 nor more than 18) were very active in Essex Chess. Many of them played for the County Team and they supported the Club and ensured its survival when other Clubs - including Harold Wood, Hornchurch and Hutton & District - were falling by the wayside.

The local league won by Brentwood Chess Club in 1933 was the second division of the South-West and Mid-Essex Chess Leagues (now the Essex County Chess League since 1945).

The Essex Minor Trophy won by T.E.Ketterer in 1932-33 was the Essex County Minor Championship which ran from 1926 to 1960. In 1932-33 it was ran as a knock-out competition.

Chapter 2 – 1947 to 1948

The information for the season 1947 to 1948 comes from the Chess in Brentwood document but also additionally from the Jubilee Handbook for the Essex Chess Association. This allows greater details to be supplied.

Extract from Chess in Brentwood

After the war Brentwood Chess stuttered into existence - first as the Brentwood and District Chess Club in 1947, which met at Holland's Restaurant, Kings Road - on the corner of Gresham Road. The Club was fortunate in having the services of J. Grieshaber - a very strong player - but nevertheless had mediocre results and sadly folded in about 1951.

Meetings were on a Tuesday from 7.30 to 10.30pm.

Essex League

The Essex County Chess League was formed in 1945 (taking the place of the former South-West and Mid-Essex Leagues). Brentwood Chess Club joined in 1947 in the second division. There were three divisions plus a commercial league of 9, 12, 10 and 5 teams respectively. A second division match was 8 boards a side.

Chapter 3 – 1948 to 1993

The information for the years 1948 to 1993 again comes from the Chess in Brentwood document plus some information from ECA and Southend Chess Club websites.

Extract from Chess in Brentwood

There is then no record of any organised chess in Brentwood until 1955 when the Doddinghurst Chess Club was formed under the Chairmanship of the Reverend E. Spray. They met in the Church Room at Doddinghurst and subs were 10 shillings a year. In 1957 the Club broadened out to become the Brentwood & Doddinghurst Chess Club meeting on the second and fourth Tuesdays in Doddinghurst and the first, third (and fifth) Tuesdays in Brentwood:- at the Hermitage. The Publicity Officer persuaded the Gazette to start a Chess Column - one of the major factors in the bandwagon of increasing membership and success which the Club began to enjoy.

In 1960 the Club reverted to its former name, The Brentwood Chess Club, and the new Chairman was the aforementioned Ted Newton.

Since then there has been a steady process of consolidation - membership between thirty and fifty - three to four teams competing in the Essex League - and increasing individual success.

Karl Bowden joined the Club whilst still at primary school, some ten years ago, and is now the strongest player in Essex.

Jonathan Rogers joined some five years ago and is now the British Under 15 Champion.

The Brentwood Chess Club has come a long way since 1905 - not least in the fact that we do not now play Draughts.

Karl Bowden was Essex Champion for three successive years between 1988 to 1990. Jonathan Rogers was joint British Under 15 Champion in 1986.

Brentwood Chess Club won the third division of the Essex League for two successive years in the seasons 1977-78 and 1978-79. Whether this was the same team or two different teams is not clear. If it was the same team then why were they not promoted?

Brentwood won the Essex Knock-out Cup in 1989. The final was against Southend (13/10/1989):

Southend			Brentwood
Howard Grist (151)	0	1	Karl Bowden (224)
Neil A Sutherland (168)	0	1	Jonathan W Rogers (206)
Paul L Williamson (168)	0.5	0.5	Brian Kemish (183)

David Raeburn (162)	0	1	Paul R Salmon (160)
Charles F Bowering (154)	0	1	Roger R Farrow (157)
Score:	1.5	4.5

The club has played at various locations in Brentwood in this period, including the Methodist Hall, Old House and finally Bentwood Tennis Club which is in the grounds of the County Cricket Ground, Shenfield Road.
